++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Blustery showers easing later Tuesday. A cold night to follow.

Today:
Cloudy and windy through much of the day with further rain or showers, locally falling as sleet and snow over high ground. Becoming brighter from the north later in the afternoon, as the showers slowly clear southwards and winds moderate. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Tonight:
A dry and largely clear evening leading to a cold night with a widespread frost inland. Slightly cloudier and milder along coastal areas, with the odd shower possible. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Wednesday:
A cold but largely sunny start. A mixture of sunny spells and scattered showers otherwise, falling as sleet and snow across the hills. Showers dying away during the evening. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Band of heavy showers moving south on Thursday, wintry over hills. Sunny spells and showers on Friday. Becoming wet and windy after a bright start Saturday. Some overnight frosts.
